

An enchanting first introduction to the magic of the water cycle

The first in a new series of narrative non-fiction titles for babies

Follow water on its journey as streams become rivers which flow out to the sea, puddles evaporate up into the sky, and soft rain falls outside the window, touching every part of life on earth. Zoey Kim's ethereal illustrations blur the lines between the mundane and the magical and introduce the marvel of the natural world. Splash presents the wonder of the water cycle in a way that will enchant young children.

Sam Voulters is the co-founder and publisher of Do Re Mi Books. He is the author of How to Be a Cat and Splash, both forthcoming in 2026.

Zoey Kim is a South Korean illustrator and designer based in Dubai. Her distinctive use of blur and fuzziness in her illustrations conveys a sense of wonder and nostalgia. She has been featured widely in the design press and has recently collaborated with fashion brand Lazy Oaf.
